'Lifemusic' Sessions with Chris North

Lifemusic is an improvised, participant-led music session using a wide selection of 70 instruments from djembe drums and synthesisers to cymbals and glocks., along with everyday objects and our own voices.

'Everyone is a musician'. 'There are no wrong notes'. 'Every sound has a meaning.'

The group's imagination can take the session anywhere in time, place or space... where ever it's led. .

Chris. also uses a wide range of fabrics, materials and unusual and interesting objects to 'paint pictures' of the improvisation along with the created sounds to transform any setting.
